Dear Alameda City Council:

On June 16th, I urge you to vote YES on Site A!

Alameda Point Partners plans for Site A will bring thousands of jobs, critically-needed housing, retail and commercial business, and open space and parks to the now languishing former Naval Air Station. The plan commits $93 million in infrastructure improvements to benefit existing and future Point businesses. Additionally, Site A includes construction of a new ferry terminal, a multi-modal transit network, and $5 million toward a new sports complex.

Time is overdue to rebuild Alameda Point. I support plans for Site A. Vote Yes on June 16th.

Thank you.

Dear Alameda City Council:

On June 16th, I urge you to vote YES on Site A!

The City has been talking about developing the Point ever since we moved here in 1992. How can we let this part of Alameda which has the best views of the Bay simply fall apart. As a resident of Alameda and soon to relocate our business headquarters to Alameda, I'm tired of paying taxes for the emergency repairs that currently plague Alameda Point. We have unsuccessfully attempted to turn the Point around twice now. Alameda Point Partners is the right team to do the job that we can all be proud of.

Alameda Point Partners plans for Site A will bring thousands of jobs, critically-needed housing, retail and commercial business, and open space and parks to the now languishing former Naval Air Station. The plan commits $93 million in infrastructure improvements to benefit existing and future Point businesses. The development team, Alameda Point Partners, has come up with a creative and balanced plan to revitalize this portion of the former Base with business, retail, renewed infrastructure, open space and parks, and housing.

Subject: Re: Please vote Yes to approve the Alameda Point Site A plan

To the Alameda City Council:

I respectfully urge you to vote YES on the Alameda Point Site A plan on June 16th.

I have lived in Alameda for 3 years. We have found Alameda to be a diverse, safe, bikeable/walkable, progressive, and vibrant community that provides opportunities for our kids to learn and grow every day. Our kids are thriving in Lum school's inclusive, positive, rigorous environment. We love biking and walking around the island. I am grateful to be able to commute to work on the ferry. When we were planning our move across the country, friends and family let us know that Alameda possesses these great attributes, and Alameda has exceeded its reputation.

I think the Site A Plan will build on what first attracted us here - it will make a great community even better.

I am also a renter who saw a 12% increase in my rent last year and an additional 4% increase this year. I believe the Site A plan will help relieve the rental housing shortage and bring housing cost inflation closer to cost of living.

The infrastructure improvements promised by the plan will benefit existing and future businesses. They will improve safety and accessibility at the Point.

Please vote Yes on June 16th.

Thank you,
Aidan Ryan

Dear Alameda City Council:

Please, please, please--vote YES on Site A on June 16!

Alameda Point Partners' plans for Site A will bring thousands of jobs, critically needed housing, retail and commercial business, open space, and parks to the still-languishing former Naval Air Station. The plan commits $93 million in infrastructure improvements to benefit existing and future Point businesses—money that the City of Alameda will not be able to provide on its own or find elsewhere under current state law.

Site A also includes construction of a new ferry terminal, a multi-modal transit network, $5 million toward a new sports complex, with the result of being the most sustainable (“greenest”) development Alameda has seen in decades from a transportation and global warming mitigation standpoint.

If the City Council fails to approve the Alameda Point Partners proposal by a 4-1 or 5-0 vote, how long will it be before we see another developer come forward who is willing to offer so much to our community with so high a risk of disapproval? Frankly, I would hate to see any additional time or energy wasted on attempts to find a “more perfect” plan when an excellent one is awaiting your approval.

Rebuilding Alameda Point is long past due. I support the plans for Site A.

Please vote Yes on June 16th.

Thank you.
